THE SAILOR BOY OF HAVRE.

A French brig was returning from Toulon to Havre with a rich cargo and numerous passengers. Off the coast of Bretagne, it was overtaken by a sudden and violent storm.

Captain P——, an experienced sailor, at once saw the danger which threatened the ship on such a rocky coast, and gave orders to put out to sea; but the winds and waves drove the brig violently toward shore, and notwithstanding all the efforts of the crew, it continued to get nearer the land.

Among the most active on board in doing all that he could to help, was little Jacques, a lad twelve years old, who was serving as cabin-boy in the vessel. At times when he disappeared for a moment behind the folds of the sails, the sailors thought that he had fallen overboard; and again, when a wave threw him on the deck, they looked around to see if it had not carried away the poor boy with it, but Jacques was soon up again unhurt.

"My mother," said he smiling, to an old sailor, "would be frightened enough if she saw me just now."

His mother, who lived in Havre, was very poor and had a large family. Jacques loved her tenderly, and he was enjoying the prospect of carrying to her his little treasure—two franc-pieces, which he had earned as wages for the voyage.

The brig was beaten about a whole day by the storm, and in spite of all the efforts of the crew they could not steer clear of the rocks on the coast. By the gloom on the captain's brow, it might be seen that he had little hope of saving the ship. All at once a violent shock was felt, accompanied by a horrible crash; the vessel had struck on a rock. At this terrible moment the passengers threw themselves on their knees to pray.

"Lower the boats!" cried the captain.

The sailors obeyed; but they soon were carried away by the violence of the waves.

"We have but one hope of safety," said the captain. "One of us must be brave enough to run the risk of swimming with a rope to shore. We may fasten one end to the mast of the vessel and the other to a rock on the coast, and by that means we may all get on shore."

"But, captain, it is impossible!" said the mate, pointing to the surf breaking on the sharp rocks. "Whoever should attempt to run such a risk would certainly be dashed to pieces."

"Well," said the captain, in a low tone, "we must all die together."

At this moment there was a slight stir among the sailors who were silently waiting for orders.

"What is the matter there?" asked the captain.

"Captain," replied a sailor, "this little monkey of a cabin-boy is asking to swim to shore with a strong string round his body to draw the cable after him; he is as obstinate as a little mule!" and he pushed Jacques into the midst of the circle.

The boy stood turning his cap round and round in his hand without daring to utter a word.

"Nonsense! such a child can't go," said the captain roughly.

But Jacques was not a character to be so easily discouraged.

"Captain," said he timidly, "you don't wish to expose the lives of good sailors like those; it does not matter what becomes of a "little monkey of a cabin-boy, as the boat-swain calls me. Give me a ball of strong string, which will unroll as I get on, fasten one end round my body, and I promise you that within an hour the rope will be well fastened to the shore, or I will perish in the attempt."

"Does he know how to swim?" asked the captain.

"As swiftly and as easy as an eel," replied one of the crew.

"I could swim up the Seine from Havre to Paris," said little Jacques.

The captain hesitated; but the lives of all on board were at stake, and he yielded. Jacques hastened to prepare for his terrible undertaking. Then he turned and softly approached the captain.

"Captain," said he, "as I may be lost may I ask you to take charge of something for me?"

"Certainly, my boy," said the captain, who was almost repenting of having yielded to his entreaties.

"Here, then, captain," replied Jacques, holding out two five-franc pieces wrapped in a bit of rag; if I am eaten by the porpoises, and you get safe to land, be so kind as to give this to my mother, who lives on the quay at Havre, and will you tell her that I thought of her, and that I love her very much, as well as all my brothers and sisters?"

"Be easy about that my boy. If you die for us, and we escape, your mother shall never want for anything.

"Oh! then I will willingly try to save you!" cried Jacques, hastening to the other side of the vessel, where all was prepared for his enterprise.

The captain thought for a moment. "We ought not to allow this boy to sacrifice himself for us in this way," said he at length; I have been wrong. I must forbid it."

"Yes, yes," said some of the sailors round him, "it is disgraceful to us all that the little cabin-boy should set us an example of courage; and it would be a sad thing if the child should die for old men like us, who have lived our time. Let us stop him."

They rushed to the side of the vessel, but it was too late. They found there only the sailor who had aided Jacques in his preparations, and who was unrolling the cord that was fastened to the body of the heroic boy. They all leaned over the side of the vessel to see what was going to happen, and a few quietly wiped away a tear which would not be restrained.

At first nothing was seen but waves of white foam, mountains of water which seemed to rise as high as the mast, and then fell down with a thundering roar. Soon the practiced eye of some of the sailors perceived a little black point rising above the waves, and then again distance prevented them from distinguishing it at all. They anxiously watched the cord and tried to guess, by its quicker or slower movements, the fate of him who was unrolling it.

Sometimes the cord was unrolling rapidly. "Oh what a brave fellow!" they said, "see how quickly he swims!" At other times, the unrolling of the ball string stopped suddenly; "poor boy," they said, "he has been drowned or dashed against the rocks!"

This anxiety lasted more than an hour; the ball of string continued to be unrolled, but in unequal periods. At length it slipped slowly over the side of the vessel, and often fell as if slackened. They thought Jacques must have much difficulty in getting through the surf on the coast.

"Perhaps it is the body of the poor boy that the sea is tossing backwards and forwards in this way," said some of the sailors.

The captain was deeply grieved that he had permitted the child to make the attempt; and notwithstanding the desperate situation in which they were, all the crew seemed to be thinking more of the boy than themselves.

All at once a violent pull was given to the cord. This was soon followed by a second, then a third. It was the signal agreed upon to tell them that Jacques had reached the shore. A shout of joy was heard on the ship. They hastened to fasten a strong rope to the cord, which was drawn on shore as fast as they could let it out, and was firmly fastened by some of the people who had come to the help of the little cabin-boy. By means of this rope many of the shipwrecked sailors reached the shore, and found means to ease the others. Not long after all had safely landed they saw the vessel sink.

The little cabin-boy was long ill from the consequences of his fatigue, and from the bruises he had received by being dashed against the rocks. But he did not mind that; for, in reward of his bravery, his mother received a yearly sum of money which placed her above the fear of want. Little Jacques rejoiced in having suffered for her, and at the same time in having saved so many lives. He felt that he had been abundantly rewarded.

THE EARLY HOME OF JESUS.

Four miles south of the strong Greek city of Sephoris, hidden away among gentle hills, then covered from the base to the crown with vineyards and fig trees, lay a natural nest or basin of rich red and white earth, starlike in shape, but a mile in width and wondrously fertile. Along the sacred and chalky slope of the highest of these hills spread a small and lovely village, which, in a land where every spot seemed to have a story, is remarkable as having had no public history, and no distinguished native name. No great road led up to this sunny nook. No traffic came into it; no legions marched through it. Trade, war, adventure, pleasure, pomp, passed through it, flowing from west to east, from east to west, along the Roman road. But the meadows were aglow with wheat and barley. Near the low ground ran a belt of gardens, fenced with stones, in which myriads of green figs, red pomegranates and golden citrons ripened in the summer sun. High up the slopes, which were lined and planted like the Rhine at Bingen, hung vintages of purple grapes. In the plain, among the corn and beneath the mulberry trees and figs shone daisies, poppies, tulips, lilies and anemones, endless in their profusion, brilliant in their dyes.

Low down on the hillside sprang a well of water, bubbling, plentiful and sweet, and above this fountain of life, in a long street straggling from the fountain to the synagogue, rose the homesteads of many shepherds, craftsmen and vine dressers. It was a lovely and humble place, of which no ruler, no historian of Israel had ever yet taken notice. No Rachael had been met and kissed into love at this well; no Ruth had gathered up the sheaves of barley in yon fields; no tower had been built for observation on this height; no camp had been pitched for battle in that vale. That one who would become dearer to the fancies of men than either Ruth or Rachael, then walked through these fields, drew water at this spring, passed up and down the lanes of this hamlet, no seer then could have surmised. The place was more than obscure.

The Arab may have pitched his black tent by the well, the magistrate of Sephoris must have known the village, but the hamlet was never mentioned by the Jewish scribes. In the Bible, in the Talmud, in the writings of Josephus, we search in vain for any record of this sacred place. Like its happy neighbors, Nain and Endor, it was the abode of husbandmen and oil dressers, whose lives were spent in the synagogue and the olive grove, away from the bright Greek cities and the busy Roman roads. No doubt it had once been possessed of either an Arab or Hebrew name, but we do not know the name except in its Hellenic from. The Greeks called the town Nazaret or Nazareth.—The Holy Land, by W. Hepworth Dixon.

GROWING TURNIPS WITH CORN—Mr. Barnes, of Westmoreland, Oneida County New York, has a novel method of growing turnips with corn, which we do not remember to have seen described before. He plants his corn three feet four inches apart, each way, which makes four thousand hills to the acre, and manures in the hill with well-rotted manures. He uses about ten loads of manure to the acre, and while loading up the manure in the yard, turnip seed is scattered over the load two or three times, or, in other words, when a third of a load is put upon the wagon, a few seeds are sprinkled over it, and so on for every third of a load. The manure then is carted to the field and placed in the rows where it is to be used, and then corn planted. He states by this method about every hill will have its turnip, which grows well with the corn and yields at the rate of one hundred and fifty bushels to the acre of roots, without any detriment to the corn crop. The turnip plants become firmly established by the time the corn is fit to cut, and after that make most of their growth, advancing with great rapidity. He says the turnips do not interfere in the growing of pumpkins among the corn if desired.

WHAT EVERY YOUNG MAN SHOULD DO.—1. Every young man should make the most of himself, intellectually, morally, socially and physically.

2. He should depend upon his own efforts to accomplish these results.

3. He should be willing to take advice from those competent to give it, and to follow such advice, unless his own judgment or convictions properly founded, should otherwise direct.

4. If he is unfortunate enough to have a rich and indulgent father, he must do the best he can under the circumstances, which will be to conduct himself very much as though he had not these obstacles to overcome.

5. He should remember that young men, if they live, grow old; and that the habits of youth are oftener than otherwise, perpetuated in the nature of a man. Knowing this fact, he should "govern himself accordingly."

6. He should never be discouraged by small beginnings, but remember that nearly all great results have been wrought out from apparently slight causes.

7. He should never, under any circumstances, be idle. If he cannot find the employment he prefers, let him come as near his desires as possible—he will thus soonest reach the object of his ambition.

8. All young men have "inalienable rights," among which none is greater or more sacred than the privilege to be "somebody."

ADVANTAGES OF MOISTENED FOOD OVER THAT WHICH IS DRY.—Besides the benefit secured by causing the ground grain to adhere to cut hay or straw when wet, it has been ascertained by Boussingault, in some well conducted experiments, that soaked fodder forms a more suitable food than that which is dry. He found that heifers fed soaked hay gained in weight over those fed during the same time with dry hay. By reversing the order of feeding, the results were the same. The experiments referred to abpear to have been simply to test the advantages of moistened food over that which is dry. Notwithstanding the moistening of hay will render it more readily digestible, yet the advantages gained would hardly warrant the labor. But in ruminating animals a great advantage results from feeding the grain in combination with the hay or straw, and this can only be done by grinding the former and cutting and wetting the latter. But to do this economically all the necessary appliances must be at hand for grinding, cutting, wetting, &c. With these, arranged as they may be, a large number of cattle may be fed with no great increase of labor. This system of feeding in stalls affords the advantage of saving and making a greater quantity of manure than by any other, which ought to be, if it is not, a matter of the first importance to every farmer.

ONE evening a parent was hearing his little son recite his Sunday school lesson, it was in the 13th chapter of Matthew, wherein it relates of the malicious individual who went about sowing tares, &c.

"What is a tare?" the parent interrupted to inquire.

Johnny hesitated.

"Tell me, my son, what a tare is."

"You have had 'em," said Johnny, casting down his eye and wriggling his foot.

"Had 'em!" said the astonished parent, opening his eyes rather wide, "why what do you mean, Johnny!"

"When you did'nt come home for three days last week," said Johnny, "I heard mother tell aunt Susan you was off on a tare." The Sunday school lesson was brought to an abrupt close, and Johnny, who knew too much altogether to sit up any later, was sent to bed.

RADICAL TESTIMONY AGAINST RADICAL CORRUPTION.

We would respectfully call the attention of every taxpayer of Pennsylvania to the following Radical testimony in regard to prevailing corruption and knavery among the law makers of Congress and a number of the State Legislatures:

"A large number of our legislators—enough to corrupt legislative action—are purchasable."—New York Times.

"With a depth and infamy of legislative corruption never before known, we are falling into a practice of wholesale and shameless bribery at elections, and that, too, in New England—in the 'land of steady habits' itself."—Boston Transcript.

"The corruptionists at Washington and Albany are debauchers of the young; they are traitors, * * vermin, who are crawling under the foundations and destroying by corruption the vital powers of the Government."—Henry Ward Beecher.

"The Legislature of 1867 is no more. It has fought its last fight—it has won its last stake. * They have passed sixteen hundred laws, 'pinched' others by the score, and finally, after three months of rioting, rotating, pinching, plundering and pocketing, their time has come, and they go out, as a rule, to return no more forever.—Chambersburg (Pa.) Repository.

"Bad as has been the character of our Legislature for years, it seems to be generally conceded that the body just adjourned was even more untrustworthy than any of its predecessors. * All the Christian people in the State should join in thanks to the Throne of Grace that it did no more harm than it did. Another such a Legislature would sink us.—Somerset (Pa.) Herald

"Our legislators are rascals. No decent man would like to win an 'Hon' for his name in such company.—Chicago Post.

The New York Legislature, alluded to, stood: Senate—Radicals 27; Democrats 5; House—Radicals 82; Democrats 46; Radical majority on joint ballot, 58!

The Pennsylvania Legislature, alluded to, stood: Senate—Radicals 21; Democrats 12; House—Radicals 62; Democrats 38; Radical majority on joint ballot, 33! The Illinois Legislature, alluded to stood: Senate—Radicals 16; Democrats 9; House—Radicals 62; Democrats 23; Radical majority on joint ballot, 46!

The Massachusetts Legislature alluded to stood: Senate—Radicals 40; Democrats 0; House—Radicals 226; Democrats 11; Radical majority on joint ballot, 258!

The Rump Congress, alluded to, stood: Senate—Radicals 43; Democrats and Conservatives 9; House—Radicals 127; Democrats and Conservatives 36; Radical majority on joint ballot, 125!

By those large controlling majorities the legislation of the States and nation was performed. If it is corrupt and infamous—and we have abundant Radical testimony, other than the foregoing, that it is—the people cannot fail to place the responsibility where it justly belongs. Having done so, it is for them to apply the corrective which it is their privilege to use, by electing, hereafter, none but honest and pure men, and so balancing party power as to make one a check upon the other. It is useless to look for purity or correct legislation when and where one political party holds so large a preponderance of power as is indicated above in the Congress and Legislatures of 1867. Equalize the political power, and each party will find it necessary to act honestly and purely in order to gain favor with the people. If the people are wise, they will at once curtail the corruptly wielded power of the Radical leaders.

GIVE THE PRINTERS FAIR PLAY.—We have a piece of advice which we wish to impress firmly and indelibly upon the public mind, and that is to give the printers fair play. Do not forget that it costs something to puff as well as to advertise, and never sponge on a printer in any way whatever. It is printer's ink that makes nine-tenths of your fortunes; it takes money to buy ink, type and paper, and yet, after all this, few are the thanks the printer gets. Give printers fair play, and give up all expectations of gratuitous puffing, &c. Daniel Webster was 'mighty near right' when he remarked of the press: 'Small is the sum required to patronize a newspaper, amply rewarded is its patron. I care not how humble and unpretending the gazette which he takes, it is next to impossible to fill it without putting into it something that is worth the subscription price.'

PPEPARATION OF WHITEWASH.—Whitewash is one of the most valuable articles in the world when properly applied. It prevents not only the decay of wood, but conduces greatly to the healthiness of all buildings, whether of wood or stone. Out-buildings and fences, when not painted, should be supplied once or twice every year with a good coat of whitewash, which should be prepared in the following way: Take a clean, water-tight barrel, or other suitable cask, and put into it half a bushel of lime. Slack it by pouring water over it, boiling hot, and in sufficient quantity to cover it five inches deep, and stir it briskly until thoroughly slacked. When the slacking has been effected, dissolve it in water, and add two pounds of sulphate of zinc, and one of common salt. These will cause the wash to harden, and prevent it cracking, which gives an unseemly appearance to the work. If desirable, a beautiful cream color may be communicated to the above wash, by adding three pounds of yellow ochre; or a good pearl or lead color, by the addition of lamp, vine, or ivory black. For fawn color, add four pounds of umber, Turkish or American, the latter is the cheapest, one pound India red, and one pound common lampblack.—For common stone color add four pounds raw umber and two pounds lampblack. This wash may be applied with a common whitewash brush, and will be found much superior, both in appearance and durability, to common whitewash.

—The business of Pittsburg is said to represent about $114,000,000.

Though Horace Greely, in one of his visionary freaks, may see great merit in the indiscriminate pardon or release of State prisoners, &c.—Inquirer.

THE old song, "We'll hang Jeff. Davis on a sour apple tree!" is emphatically played out, Congress having changed the penalty for treason from hanging to ten years' imprisonment. Congress must have feared that Jefferson Davis would be tried and convicted, that they hastened to modify the "punishment for traitors."

Mrs. Surratt, Payne, Atzerott, &c., were, doubtless, justly punished for murder, &c.—Inquirer.

Maj. Gen. Benj. F. Butler, L. L. D., said, upon the floor of Congress, that Mrs. Surratt was an "innocent woman." Is it possible that there is a difference of opinion, on that subject, among the Radical brethren?

KEEP it before the people, that the late Radical Legislature appropriated for payment of its members and attaches, $115,000 more than that of 1864. Just think of it! An increase of expenditure for "running" the Legislature, since 1864, of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS! "That's the way the money goes, pop goes the weasel!

WHY don't the Radical party bring Jefferson Davis to trial? The District Attorney for the district of Virginia, and his assistant counsel, Mr. Evarts, are both Radicals, Judge Underwood is a crazy Radical and Judge Chase is a prospective Radical candidate for the Presidency. Now, why isn't Davis run through this Radical machine? The Democrats want to see him tried and are anxious to know Judge Chase's opinion as to what constitutes Treason in this country.

HORACE GREELY has been called to account by the New York Union League, for becoming security for Jefferson Davis. Horace has replied in a lengthy epistle, in which he calls the brethren of the league "narrow-minded block heads." The letter from the white-coated philosopher has created quite a sensation, and the Union League have backed down from their resolution to expel him. We will give Horace's epistle to the "blockheads" in full, next week.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Radical organization in Washington city, consists of seven thousand negroes and about two hundred whites. The whole number of white voters registered is about seven thousand. About two thousand whites neglected to register. It is meet that under such circumstances the Radicals should carry the city. In fact, we hope they may carry it, just to teach the sleepy conservatives a lesson.

TO SOLDIERS.

The last Congress having failed to make an appropriation for the additional bounties to soldiers, the Department at Washington has been compelled to stop the payment of all claims for such bounties. Such as have been paid were paid out of the general Military fund. This is a pretty state of affairs, to be sure. We charged it upon the Radical Congress last fall, that it had failed to make any appropriation for the payment of the additional bounties. This charge was denied most vehemently by the partizans of Congress, but it appears that we were correct after all. What is more, Congress took good care to make an appropriation for the three hundred dollars bounty to be paid to each negro soldier. The pet lambs of the Radicals must have their fodder, whether the white boys in blue get any appropriations or not. We once had a Soldiers' Convention in this county. There is more reason for the assembling of such a body now than there ever was before. The soldiers of the country, if they would do themselves justice, ought to rise up en masse and denounce the double-dealing and trickery of the late Congress.

TENNESSEE.

The Kingdom of Tennessee, now ruled over by his Brimstone Majesty, "Governor" Brownlow, will hold an election some of these days. Brownlow, is a candidate for re-election. He and his delectable Legislature have disfranchised two thirds of the white men of the State, and, at the same time, have given all the negroes the right of suffrage. Old Brownlow is more thoroughly despised and more cordially hated by three fourths of the white people of Tennessee than any other man on the face of the globe. Yet he has under his control the machinery to impose his odious tyranny upon those people as long as he pleases. He has the negro mob to sustain him, and a negro militia to overawe and slay the few true and brave men who dare to stand in the way of his accursed ambition. He threatens to disperse all meetings held to oppose his re-election and to arrest all speakers who may choose to mention his public career in terms of disapprobation. For this purpose he declares he will use his black militia. And these janissaries that are to crush out the last vestige of freedom in Tennessee, are armed at the expense of the United States, Congress having directed 10,000 stand of arms to be placed at the disposal of Brownlow for that purpose. Was ever country cursed with such infernal knavery as this, since the day when Nero fiddled over burning Rome? If all the fiends in the hottest of incandescent hells were molten into one gigantic devil, and if such a demoniac monstrosity were fed on vitriol and saltpetre for ten centuries, and then let loose to invent a curse for this land, he could be furnished a recipe for all he desired to accomplish, by that incarnation of all that is diabolical, Brownlow, of Tennessee.

"HELP US, CASH US, OR WE SINK!"

Such is the "Macedonian cry" of the Radical National Committee, in an address recently issued to the "Republicans of the Union!" This address is signed by Marcus L. Ward, N. J., S. A. Purviance, Pa., W. Claflin, Mass., John B. Clark, N. H., Horace Greely, N. Y., H. H. Starkweather, Conn., N. B. Smithers, Del., and H. W. Hoffman, Md. After discoursing upon the necessity for organization, especially in the South, it concludes as follows:

"Republicans! Our appeal is to you, to carry on and sustain the work which a few loyal and true men have so nobly begun. We cannot ask speakers, in addition to giving their time and talents for months to this labor, to defray their own necessary expenses. We cannot print and distribute documents of the character required without a heavy outlay. We have no means of reliance except upon the generous spirit of that great party which holds the claims of humanity and freedom above all price. The patronage of the Government, brought into power by the statesmanship, the courage and the loyalty of that party, will not aid us in this good work. We must, therefore, appeal directly and personally to you. If you are rich give generously. If poor, send to us whatever you can afford. The generous purpose and the noble aim sanctify the humblest efforts. At all events, act promptly, and let us feel that the sympathy of the Republican party is with us in our purpose of making this great land the home of true Republican principles, where distinctions of race and color are unknown, and where Liberty, Virtue and Intelligence, form the enduring basis of our greatness and prosperity."

"Brethren, let us pray!" as Brick Pomeroy says. Bro. Lutz will please pass the hat around. The Union League fund has "gin eout" and the Military Despotism in the South is a heavy contract. Hand over your greenbacks. Negro Suffrage has need of them.

MORE CORRUPTION.

Forney, D. D., Gobbles $200,000!

The following is printed in a late number of the New York Express:

"It is stated on good authority that the franchise of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company has been sold to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for $500,000. Of this amount John W. Forney received $200,000, a Mr. Lloyd, from Williamsport, Pa., now a clerk in the Clerk's Office H. of R., $45,000, and other persons connected with the so-called enterprise the balance."

Wholesale robbery like this, according to the morals of these times, makes the scoundrels who perpetrate it, gentlemen! If some poor devil runs away with a thousand or two, he is, forsooth, a great criminal; but when the villain of colossal proportions, pockets his quarter of a million, he is only a gentleman of quick parts! In regard to the transaction above referred to, we adopt the language of the Lancaster Examiner, which, though a Radical paper, seems to have sufficient grit to speak plainly. The Examiner says: All we have to say about this is, that if true, the parties with Col. Forney at their head, have perpetrated a base fraud on the public. During the last session of the Maryland legislature, the persons owning the charter of the "Baltimore and Potomac Railroad" resisted what they called the effort of the monopolists of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to have their charter repealed by the legislature, on the ground that the Baltimore and Ohio company was a huge monopoly, controlling the only road leading to Washington, and if they were not interfered with they would build a rival road. The Maryland legislature believed them and refused to repeal the charter. But the legislature of Maryland had scarcely adjourned, when these great champions of the cause of the people, and anti-monopolists, who had enlisted on their side the entire press of the country for a rival route to Washington, sell out to the very monopoly they professed to be contending with, for half a million of dollars. The chief speculator pockets his two hundred thousand dollars and runs away to Europe.

This, we say, if true, is a base, contemptible fraud, which might be all right for stock-gamblers, railroad contractors and speculators, who follow that sort of business to make fortunes; but for a public man, the chief officer of the United States Senate, a professed statesman, a loud-mouthed champion of the people and their rights and privileges, to be the leader, the principal receiver of the "black-mail," is nothing less than a disgraceful public scandal.

SIR ARCHIBALD ALISON, author of the well known History of Europe, and a number of works on Criminal Law, died a few days ago.

A GLIMPSE BEHIND THE MASK.—A colored Baptist minister at Beaufort, S. C., writing to the Christian Record, among other things says:

"Some of our white ministerial friends do more in the way of procuring farms and keeping our poor race in ignorance than anything else. They pretend, when they are North, that they would come down and do anything for our race in the way of enlightening them; but instead of this, when they see the cotton gag, they forget all about Christ and Him crucified, and the saving of souls."

Of certain Northern merchants, he says:—

"All they wish to do, is to teach what President Lincoln has done, pat the colored man on the shoulder with the left hand, while with the right hand they catch hold of his pocketbook. And when they have got the last cent from him, their friendship suddenly ceases. Then 'he is only a nigger.'"

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.—This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyle, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC, and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption, for his days of visitation.

Please ask for "Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills," and observe that the two likenesses of the Doctor are on the Government stamp—one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other in his present health.

Sold by all Druggists and dealers. Price 25 cts per box. Principal office, No. 15 North 6th street, Philadelphia, Pa.

SHATTERED CONSTITUTIONS RESTORED by Helmbold's Extract Buchu.

KNOW THY DESTINY.—MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a lifelike picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with the date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. All communication, sacredly confidential. Address in confidence, MADAME E. F. THORNTON, P. O. Box 223, Hudson, N. Y. marl,'67y1

It is warranted superior to anything else for the cure of Cuts, Wind Galls, Swellings, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, &c. This Liniment is no new remedy. It has been used and approved of for 19 years by the first horsemen in the country Given to an over-driven horse, it acts like magic. Orders are constantly received from the racing stables of England for it. The celebrated Hiram Woodruff, of trotting fame, has used it for years, and says it is far superior to any other he has tried. He kindly permits me to refer to him. MORRISON'S COVE and Antis township, Blair county, were visited by a severe hail storm last week.

THE Commissioners of Centre county have contracted for the erection of a new jail at a cost of $46,642.

APPEAL BY ASSESSOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE.—Hon. W. McSherry, Assessor of Internal Revenue, will hold an appeal in this place, on the 15th of June. Those interested will please take notice. See adv't.

CHALYBEATE SPRING HOUSE.—We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Chenoweth's Chalybeate Spring Hotel. The house has been greatly enlarged and is kept in the best style.

NEW FANCY GOODS.—Call at Miss M. Fetterly's and examine her stock of new fancy dress and millinery goods. Her store is well supplied with the latest styles. See advertisement.

LOOK OUT!—Mr. W. H. H. Ralston, Peddler for Mr. J. I. Noble's Woolen Factory, is now traversing the county with Mr. Noble's wagon. Have your wool ready. *

IMPORTANT TO HEIRS OF SOLDIERS.—In accordance with a bill passed by the last Congress, the heirs of Union Soldiers who died while held as prisoners in the South, are entitled to draw commutation for rations for the time intervening between the capture and decease of such soldiers. This commutation amounts to twenty-five cents per day, and may be obtained by the widow, if she has remained unmarried as late as March 2, 1867.

DEATH FROM TRICHINA.—A young man and a young woman named Bosh died a few days ago, from this terrible disease. They resided about six miles south-west of Greensburg. A young lady named Scott, who remained a few days in the Bosh family, assisting in caring for the sick, is dangerously ill of the same disease.—Greensburg Argus.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.—One dollar greenbacks altered to twos are in circulation; also, counterfeit ten dollar bills on the Third National Bank of Philadelphia. The latter are said to be well calculated to deceive. Look out for both.

CURE FOR HARD TIMES.—The best cure for hard times is to cheat the doctor by being temperate; the lawyer by keeping out of debt; the demagogues by voting for honest men, and poverty by being industrious, subscribe for the BEDFORD GAZETTE, pay for it in advance and have a clear conscience and rest well at night.

CHURCH DEDICATION.—By Divine permission, the German Reformed Church at Bloody Run, this county, will be dedicated to the worship of the Triune God, on Sunday, June 2. A number of ministers of the Reformed Church have signified their willingness to be present and participate in the services. D.

NOT YET.—It appears that the towns of Woodberry and St. Clairsville, which we stated, some time ago, had been incorporated into boroughs, are not yet so incorporated, the applications for incorporation having to pass at another term of Court. Our Democratic friends in those places will, therefore, vote for delegates in their respective townships, as heretofore.

HO FOR SCHELLSBURG!—Messrs. Smith and Statler, Schellsburg, have just received a large stock of new goods. Their variety is very large and customers cannot fail to suit themselves in quality and price. They are young and energetic business men and deserve a large share of the patronage of their neighborhood. Call and see them.

THE REGULATOR.—The immortal, unexcelled and never-to-be-rivaled Regulator (Irvine and Statler's) is doing a smashing business in boots and shoes, muslins, &c. In queensware their business is not smashing, for their articles in that line can't be broken. Perfumery, notions, etc., are regulated down to very low figures.

A SHAD SELL.—Two weeks since the Bellefonte Watchman stated that "one of the boys employed in that office, caught two large shad at the end of the Spring Creek Bridge, in that place." The "bait took," and accordingly several gentlemen in Harrisburg were as badly "sold" as the shad were on being sold to Meek.

ROBBERY.—A few nights ago the house of Jacob Ruble, of Springhill township, in this County, was entered by some unknown person or persons and robbed of about seventeen hundred dollars in money and government bonds. We have learned of no arrests or suspicion. This is another warning to the people not to keep money in their houses or on their persons.—Uniontown Genius.

SOME men are naturally good looking, others naturally affable in their manners; all degrees can be improved by being clothed in an entire new suit to correspond with the season at the fashionable clothing emporium of R. W. Berkstresser & Co. Ladies are invited to call and examine their excellent stock of Delaines, Calicoes, Muslins, &c., which are all of the latest styles and will be sold at the most reasonable prices.

BOROUGH TAXES.—We are requested by the Burgess and Council to say that on account of the extraordinary repairs to reservoir and streets, the taxes must be paid at once or the work stopped. It is to be hoped that the water will not be stopped off from the Borough, this summer, on this account.

Laboring men must be paid and their families supplied, or the work cannot go on. J. W. Dickerson, Esq., has the old duplicate and H. Nicodemus, Esq., the present one.

A MEAN OUTRAGE.—Last Saturday evening the Indian Doctor (Evans) stopped at the Eagle Hotel in this place and had his horse put away in the stable. The same night somebody entered the stable and cut the horse's tail off (the hair of it rather) close up to the stump. The horse was damaged to a very serious extent, but the amount of loss thus occasioned the Indian Doctor does not begin to compare with the amount of meanness there is in the creature that can do such an act, no matter whether Indian, Nigger, Walrussian or Esquimaux against whom it is done.—Fulton Democrat.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Sabbath morning last, Andrew M'Laughlin, living in Hopewell township, died very suddenly. He was in his usual health when he got up, ate a hearty breakfast, and shortly afterward complained of feeling drowsy. He then lay down, and in a very few minutes was a corpse. Mr. M'Laughlin was about fifty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and several children, four of whom are quite small. He was for several years a resident of this borough.—Washington Review.

AMENDED LIQUOR LAW.—We copy from an exchange the following synopsis of the amended liquor law passed at the last session of the Legislature:

"It first authorizes public officers to enforce order in drinking houses, and arrest offenders in all acts of disorder; it enjoins them to ferret out and report unlicensed houses; it forbids the giving or selling of liquor to any member of a family against the request of any other members of the family; it makes the vendor responsible for all loss or damage by any habitual drunkard who may have got the liquor from him. The sheriff or any constable or policeman may close up any place where liquor is sold in case of a violation of the act, but must be closed not later than 12 o'clock at night, and must not be opened before sunrise."

AN individual, named Kepler, Rev. Samuel, who "once upon a time" held forth on the street corners, in the groceries and in the Court House of this place we learn from the Rockingham Register, has turned up in Harrisonburg, Virginia. This is not the last place in which he will "turn up" by any means; if he would have the courage of ordinary men he would have been considerably further South, where his heart was, four years ago. This place is well rid of him. Gazette please copy.—Inquirer.

Inquirer, please notice that the GAZETTE has copied. We feel it to be our duty to advertise gratis the brutality of the dirt-eaters of the Bedford Inquirer.

GIPSEYS.—A band of these vagrants have, for a week back, been encamped in the woods near this place. They, like all their tribe, are a swindling pilfering set of rascals, and for the security of chicken coops, horse flesh and "portable property" generally, as well as children "lying around loose," should be driven out of the neighborhood as soon as possible.—Chambersburg Spirit.

We quote the above not only on account of the moral idea contained, but also because we may possibly have a visit from the same descendants of Pharaoh in this region, ere long.

THE BROAD TOP RAILROAD.—Under the present management this is one of the best conducted Railroads in the State. The old trestle-work has been replaced by new, and other substantial improvements are noticeable all along the line. It traverses a portion of the State exhibiting the grandest of mountain scenery, and leads to the Broad Top House, a delightful summer retreat on top of the mountains, and also to the celebrated Bedford Springs, one of the most fashionable resorts for physical and mental recuperation in this country.

Travelers may rest confident that for comfortable cars, polite attendants, fine scenery and general safety the Broad Top Railroad ranks fairly in the first class.—Lewistown Democrat.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday morning last, Benjamin Claubaugh, a switch tender at the head of the yard at Altoona, was accidentally run over by an engine and so seriously injured that he is not expected to recover. He was in the act of running across the track to change the switch, when he tripped and fell, the wheels of the engine—which was so close upon him that it was impossible to stop it—running over both his legs at the knee, crushing them in a terrible manner. His injuries were promptly attended to, but, from their severe nature, little or no hope is entertained of his recovery.

Since the above was in type we learn that Mr. Claubaugh died on Monday afternoon about two o'clock. He was about 30 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children.—Hol. Standard.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR LOCAL CORRESPONDENTS.—Our Bethel Township correspondent writes us that the Oil Well there is still "going downward" and that the operators feel sanguine of success. Also that Warfordsburg is improving; that a new dwelling and store have been built and a merchant from Hagerstown is about opening a store there, making "two stores, three shoe shops," in that village, besides a number of "workers in wood" and sundry other craftsmen in that enterprising little village. He says they want a "turner." Who will supply the desideratum?

Warfordsburg is a "live" little town and no mistake.

From Belfast Township we learn that the discovery of silver and gold there is creating considerable excitement and "prospecting" is going on there. We were shown, a few days ago, a sample of the shining substance and we must confess it had the yellow glitter and made one feel as if there might be something "in it." May it prove that, in this instance, the glitter is gold.—Fulton Republican.

MAD DOGS.—Eleven children were bitten a few days ago in one school district in Northampton county, by a mad dog, and our exchanges report several deaths by Hydrophobia in all parts of the State. In Cumberland and Perry counties, several horses and cattle have become rabid and been killed.

MARRIED.

STUCKEY—CESSNA—At the bride's residence, on Tuesday evening, May 4th, by the Rev. W. M. Deatrick, Mr. Samuel Stuckey, of Berkeley county, West Virginia, and Mrs. Margaret Cessna, of Friend's Cove, this county.

DIED.

DIEHL—In Friend's Cove, on the evening of the 15th inst., after a lingering illness, Rebecca, the beloved wife of Henry Diehl, aged 52 years, 2 months and 3 days.

MULLIN—At his residence in Harrison township, on the 16th of April, 1867, George Mullin, Esq., in the 81st year of his age.

The subject of the above notice was born in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, but came to Bedford county at a very early age, where he has resided ever since. His parents were poor, and consequently unable to give him the benefit of a classical education, but endowed with spirit, ambition and energy, it was but a natural result that he should succeed in spite of any lack of culture in this respect. He was one of a class of men to whom no obstacle seems unsurmountable, no difficulty so great that it cannot be overcome by perseverance. Ever upright and honest, he won the esteem and respect of the entire community in which he lived. He was twice Sheriff of the county, receiving his first commission from Gov. Joseph Heister, on the 28th of Oct., 1822, and his second from Gov. Geo. Wolf, on Nov. 4, 1833. In 1841 he was elected for three years to represent the 15th Senatorial District, composed of Bedford and Somerset counties. As a legislator, he was able and incorruptible—conscientious in the discharge of his duty, he ever had an eye single to the interests of the Commonwealth and to his constituency. During the six years of his official career as Sheriff, he was indulgent and kind; in frequent instances preferring to assume the debts himself rather than distress the poor, and was therefore truly styled "the poor man's friend." He had a wonderfully retentive memory and an inexhaustible fund of information; was thoroughly posted on the politics of the day, and could converse fluently on all subjects appertaining thereto, from an early date in the history of the country, up to the last days of his life. He was always a decided advocate of the Union, and during the late unfortunate and unjustifiable rebellion, he stood by the Union, and with patriotic zeal aided the Union cause in every way he could—contributing three of his own sons and a grandson to the active military service of government. In 1851 he was so much injured by a fall from his horse, as to be compelled to use crutches ever since, a period of over fifteen years. Last fall a fresh injury confined him to his bed.—For a time his recovery seemed probable, but, he had not the vigor of youth on his side, the hand of time for four score years, and over, pressed upon him. His recuperative powers were gone—slowly his sands of life ran out, until exhausted nature yielding to the "stern decree," succumbed—the "dull film along his dim eye grew, and he lay,

"In the deep stillness of that dreamless state,
Of sleep that knows no waking joys again."

His sufferings were great, but he bore them with as much fortitude as poor human nature can exercise under such circumstances. He seldom complained, and when he did, it was only when his pain increased to an agony by lifting or moving, but ever bowed submissively to the hand that afflicted. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church for many years; tried to be exemplary and consistent and to walk in "all godliness and humility," so far as he was enabled. A firm believer in the Bible, and the truths of divine revelation, he literally "searched the scriptures," and ever sought to profit by their teachings. It is said that the prospect of death disarms a man of all disposition to transact business of a worldly character. Not so with him. Whilst "setting his house in order," with a view to his eternal interests, he did not neglect so to arrange his temporal matters that all difficulty, as much as possible, might be obviated after his decease. When this was accomplished he calmly awaited his approaching dissolution. A few days before his death his mind seemed to be darkened in reference to his spiritual condition. Upon being questioned in this respect he replied, "I leave that entirely with my God—I have no assurance—only hope, only hope." Soon, however, a heavenly light seemed to stream in upon him, and he was happy. Almost the last act of his life was a long and beautiful prayer in which he besought the divine blessing upon all mankind. Thus he passed from earth to rejoin the companionship of her, we trust, who long years before preceded him to glory—she whom he loved, and to sing with her the anthems of the redeemed. Ah! 'tis sweet to die this end to gain. Who would cling to earth with such a home in view? When the dark and misty vale is passed, and Heaven's gates are thrown open to our bewildered gaze, we behold the shining loved ones gone before—there re-unions are perpetual; there no partings; there no sad farewells.

"There is perpetual spring, perpetual youth;
No joint-benumbing cold, nor scorching heat,
Famine nor age have any being there."

LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND
J. W. BRADLEY'S
CELEBRATED PATENT
DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING) SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the DUPLEX ELLIPTIC SKIRT will be experienced particularly in crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring Skirt.
A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.
They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered: preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.
The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the STANDARD SKIRT of the Fashionable World!
To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz. superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for
J. W. BRADLEY'S DUPLEX ELLIPTIC, or Double Spring Skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.
CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that Skirts offered as "DUPLEX" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—☞ none others are genuine. Also notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.
For sale in all stores where first class Skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,

ASTROLOGY.
The World Astonished
AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST, MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catasrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives your name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secresy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

REPARATOR CAPILLI.
Throw away your false frisnes, your switches, your wig—
Destructive of comfort, and not worth a fig;
Come aged, come youthful, come ugly and fair,
And rejoice in your own luxuriant hair.
REPARATOR CAPILLI
For restoring hair upon bald heads (from whatever cause it may have fallen out) and forcing a growth of hair upon the face, it has no equal. It will force the beard to grow upon the smoothest face in from five to eight weeks, or hair upon bald heads in from two to three months. A few ignorant practitioners have asserted that there is nothing that will force or hasten the growth of the hair or beard. Their assertions are false, as thousands of living witnesses (from their own experience) can bear witness. But many will say how are we to distinguish the genuine from the spurious? It certainly is difficult, as nine-tenths of the different preparations advertised for the hair and beard are entirely worthless, and you may have already thrown away large amounts in their purchase. To such we would say, try the Reparator Capilli; it will cost you nothing unless it fully comes up to our representations. If your druggist does not keep it, send us one dollar and we will forward it, postpaid, together with a receipt for the money, which will be returned you on application, provided entire satisfaction is not given. Publications.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political, agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
